

<h1 style="text-align: center;">Clare Nevinson</h1> <h2 style="text-align: center;">Primary Curriculum Design Computing</h2>
Name	Clare Nevinson
Role	Primary School Teacher Computing Curriculum Design Lead for Education South West
Organisation	Rydon Primary School / Christow Primary School Education South West
Phase Subject Taught Subject / Phase Designed	Primary Primary Curriculum Primary Curriculum Design Lead for Computing
About me	23 years in Teaching Experience of teaching across the primary age range from Early Years – Y6 Curriculum Design Lead for computing across Education South West Worked for Exeter University delivering Computing Enrichment days to local primary school pupils Worked with Computing at Schools (CAS) as a CAS Master Teacher
From the National Curriculum Review for Computing:	Digital technology is driving extraordinary global changes that some are calling the Fourth Industrial Revolution. Navigating these changes effectively and safely requires a significant understanding of digital literacy, information technology and computer science. This knowledge

	is also crucial if business, industry and individuals are to exploit the opportunities offered by this revolution. The national curriculum makes it clear that computing is mandatory at key stages 1 to 4 and that ‘a high-quality computing education equips pupils to use computational thinking and creativity to understand and change the world’. Learners’ success in future engagement with computing will depend on how well introductory curricula prepare them in both the cognitive and affective dimensions of computational learning.
Train / Work Somewhere Special	Improving education has been described as 'the holy grail of public Teaching is a vocation, a passion. Learning to teach and teaching to learn alongside each other is a powerful and exciting vehicle for the evaluation of the teaching profession.
Work Somewhere Special	Teaching is much more than a job because: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are making a difference to children’s lives • You meet different challenges everyday • Teaching provides a true sense of belonging
Live Somewhere Special	Exploring the Jurassic Coast line is a favourite day out for me. There is always somewhere to enjoy an ice-cream too!