

<h1 style="text-align: center;">Jenny Violette</h1> <h2 style="text-align: center;">Primary Curriculum Design Phonics & Early Reading</h2>
Name	Jenny Violette
Role	Subject Lead Designer: Phonics and Early Reading
Organisation	Ramsbury/ Mangotsfield English Hub
Phase	Primary
Subject Taught	All subjects
Subject / Phase Designed	Primary Curriculum Design Lead for Phonics and Early Reading
About me	14 years in Teaching Taught in Reception up to Year 5 Key Stage One Lead and English Subject Lead Work with English Hubs as a Literacy Specialist Director of a DfE funded Phonics Project for Wiltshire, Swindon, Gloucestershire, and BaNES
Phonics and early reading are special because:	‘Reading is the gateway to everything. Providing children with the tools to be able to read supports them to access the wider curriculum and beyond. Phonics is the vehicle to learning to read and spell. As soon as children develop their word reading skills, they can build on these foundations to develop the more strategic skills of language comprehension. The earlier we get children to read with automaticity, the more opportunities they will have to experience a wider vocabulary, genres of texts and strengthen their knowledge of the world around them. Ultimately, I want pupils to develop a love of reading.’

Train / Work Somewhere Special	Teaching is such a privilege. We get to nurture and shape the future of the children in our care. It thrills me to be able to share this passion with the next generation of teachers.
Work Somewhere Special	Teaching is such a great career as no day is ever the same. To have the opportunity to inspire and support children in their educational journey, knowing that you have had an impact on their progress is priceless.
Live Somewhere Special	If you get a chance to visit Bigbury-on-sea, the beach is beautiful and the view of Burgh Island is stunning.