

Martin Lewis Curriculum Design Lead Professional Behaviours
Name	Martin Lewis
Role	Currently SWIFT ECT Senior Delivery Lead and Head of Department at KCC
Organisation	Kingsbridge Community College Education South West
Phase Subject Taught Subject / Phase Designed	Secondary Drama Primary Curriculum Design Lead for Professional Behaviours
About me	29 years in Teaching ECT Induction Tutor SWIFT ECT Senior Delivery Lead I have been an Assistant Principal, Faculty Lead and Head of Department for Drama and Performing Arts National Professional Qualification for Headship
About Professional Behaviours::	It is a given that teachers need to develop expert subject and phase specific knowledge to be effective in the classroom. But teaching in our modern school setting requires so much more than that. Teachers are expected (amongst lots of other things) to be role models, understand the individual needs of all their students, build relationships with parents, carers and families and take control of their own career pathway and wellbeing. The Professional Behaviours strand looks at

	how teachers build that wider contribution in the life of a school and how with reflective practice and mentoring, teachers can thrive in the early years of their career.
Train / Work Somewhere Special	The most valuable asset any school has is not the buildings, equipment or campus that the school sits in. It is the teachers that inspire and engage their students to be the next generation of thinkers, leaders and innovators.
Work Somewhere Special	Teaching is special because: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • As a teacher you might be the most influential person and force for good in a young person’s life – everybody remembers a great teacher! • Teachers can learn as much about themselves over a teaching career as their students can learn from them
Live Somewhere Special	Bantham beach (and some more secret spots dotted about) can serve up perfect waves for anyone who enjoys being in the surf. Often the antidote to a busy day at school.